Wonga Beach Community Markets will kick off on Sunday December 6, 2015 from 10.00 am-2.00 pm at the Wonga Beach State School. We are inviting all interested participants to register their interest. Whether you are a business, a market stall holder, a busker, a community group, a sporting club, an awesome Christmas cake maker, a Christmas caroller, a street artist, hoping to de-clutter before Christmas or preferring to SHOP LOCAL for this Christmas, flick us an email at wongabeachmarkets@gmail.com or pop over to our facebook page/wongabeachcommunitymarkets to let us know you’d love to contribute. The Wonga Beach School P& C will be providing a range of yummy picnic style food on the day, as well as a licensed bar, entertainment for the kids and a pre-loved toy store (welcoming all donations) so come along and join in with some community Christmas spirit.
Summer is the season of sweat the sea and sand,
It’s a season of sunburnt sunbakers sitting on sandy shores,
It’s also a season of squeaking sand beneath your scorching from the summer sun. . .

Snorkelling in the colourful coral,
Umbrella filled beaches,
Mosquitoes piercing my soft skin,
Muddy feet leaving footprints over the just cleaned house,
Eating juicy, mouth-watering watermelon that’s dripping down my face,
Red beach balls bouncing all over the scorching the sand...

That’s what summer is!!!

By Ocean

Summer is the season of cricket, camping and Christmas.
It’s the fun filled screams as slides get blocked up and water parks are full.
Smelling the beautiful flowers.
Under the umbrella, cooling down like an ice block.
Mosquitoes eating me till I’m bloodless.
OUCH!
Making sandcastles and hearing the waves crash.
Eating delicious ice cream and tasting all the flavours.
Rays from the boiling, blazing hot sun hitting me.
By Jasmine.

Wetland Community Day

Wednesday’s tree planting day was a wonderful success. We had volunteers from our parents and community, the Green Army, Jack and Lorraine Boyd, Jabilbina, The Discovery Centre, LMAC and even the mayor, Julia Leu. Also thanks to the Tree Loppers for the big piles of mulch! The children worked exceptionally hard all morning to plant 200 trees, clear vines and weeds, mulch and clear pathways. When the younger grades finished planting, watering, mulching and fertilizing they enjoyed a cold icy pole with their adult helpers. Jabilbina and the Green Army stayed on to work with the year 5/6 class for another two hours to create pathways and clear weeds in hot gruelling conditions. A very big thanks to both groups who were great with the kids. Clint and Travis deserve a pat on the back for the extensive irrigation system they put in that allows the entire planting area on both sides of the creek to be watered. Therese, the P & C president also needs a special thank you. And especially thank you to Rick Weimar for all of the organisation and effort he has put into this project this year and for giving our students such an interesting project to work on. Paddy and Allison Quaid also need to be thanked for the trust they put into the school by allowing us to use their land for this project. Drive down Paddy’s lane behind the school to check out what is a wonderful community environmental program.
